

ASHLEY ORMOND, PhD

PEDIATRIC CLINICAL PSYCHOLOGIST

Dr. Ashley Ormond is a clinical psychologist who specializes in working with children and families. Dr. Ormond received her doctorate degree from Wichita State University. She subsequently completed her residency and her fellowship at Oklahoma Children's hospital and Nationwide Children's hospital (respectively). As a parent and former foster parent, Dr. Ormond focuses her attention on helping children manage symptoms of ADHD, mood concerns and disruptive behavior. She is passionate about decreasing the stigma of mental health, increasing parent self-efficacy and improving overall family functioning.

BS in Psychology, Brigham Young University
MA in Education leadership and Human development, George Washington University
MS and PhD in Clinical Psychology, Wichita State University
Internship: Oklahoma Children's fellowship
Fellowship: Nationwide Children's Hospital

Clinical Interest

- Children
- Adolescents
- Young adults

Awards

- James Snyder Research Award (for examining mental health barriers to care within the African American communities of the Midwest)
- Dr. Russel Adams and Sue Adams Humanitarian Award in Psychology (from Oklahoma Children's hospital)
- Outstanding fellow of the year award (from Nationwide Children's hospital)

Clinical faculty at Nationwide Children's hospital